Sid Says:

THIS LITTLE BOOKLET WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Last year for the first time we put out a pocket edition instead of an illustrated catalogue with long descriptions of varieties. By so doing we were able to give you much lower prices.

This policy proved to be so satisfactory that we are issuing a condensed list again this year with still lower prices. This year of 1929 will make our eighth year of growing plants and bulbs for the trade. During this entire period of years we have had very few complaints and these I trust were satisfactorily adjusted.

I do not go as far as to say but what some of you may have been dissatisfied with stock purchased from us. We have no way of knowing this unless same is called to our attention. We are always ready to rectify any mistakes or replace any bulb or plant that does not grow, or proves otherwise than true to name.

I wish to thank you for your continued patronage which has enabled us to increase the number of varieties each year.

SIDNEY E. FORD,
Manager.

How to Grow and Store Gladiolus

Gladiolus are quite hardy, and can be planted as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

In this climate we start planting about April 1st, continuing to June 20th, this giving us a continual bloom until frost.

In preparing the soil, we find the use of well-rotted manure gives the best results. (Be sure it is well rotted). It should be plowed or spaded into the soil to a depth of at least 6 inches.

In planting in drills, furrow or dig out to about 6 inches deep. Sprinkle on one side of a drill a good potato fertilizer; then rake in, mixing the fertilizer with the soil, until the drill is about 4 inches deep. The potato fertilizer is simply to give the bulbs a good start, and the manure to carry out the further development. Avoid using new manure, as it is high in ammonia, making it very harmful. New manure can be used if spaded or plowed into the ground in the fall. In case you cannot get well-rotted manure, sheep dressing is very good.

Many growers use a combination of potato fertilizer and bone meal, mixed in equal parts. Gladioli can be grown in this way with very good results, but the flowers do not stand up as well, the petals not having as heavy a texture as when grown with manure.

The bulbs should be planted at least 4 inches deep, and from 4 to 6 inches apart, to get best results. We plant in double rows, in drills at least two feet apart. Gladioli can be planted in beds, like tulips. In this case we advise planting a mixture of early, mid-summer, and late varieties, thus giving a continual bloom.

Gladioli grown in a hedge, with dahlias as a background, make a beautiful showing. In doing this be sure to leave a space of at least  $2\frac{1}{2}$  feet between gladioli and dahlias, to prevent any possible shading by the dahlias.

Avoid shady places, as gladioli grow best in the open. In case the season is dry a good watering once every ten days or two weeks is very beneficial. Soak the soil to a depth of 6 inches or more. A light watering does more harm than good, as it gives the feeders a tendency to work toward the surface, rather than downward. After a rain, or watering, the soil should be stirred to a depth of 1 to  $1\frac{1}{2}$  inches, to retain the moisture.

Gladioli should be dug as soon as the foliage begins to turn brown. After digging, cut the tops back close to the bulbs.

Then spread out to a depth of not more than 2 or 3 inches to dry, in a place where there is a good circulation of air.

In about two weeks they should be sufficiently dry so that the old bulb roots and the bulblets can be removed. After doing this, place in shallow boxes, not more than 3 inches deep. Store in a good, cool, dry cellar, before there is any danger of freezing.

These directions for cleaning and storing should be followed, for if the roots are allowed to stay on too long, or stored in boxes which are too deep, the bulbs are liable to rot or become diseased.

MIXED GLADIOLUS

50c per dozen; $3.50 per hundred

Our mixture contains a well-balanced assortment of early, mid-summer, and late varieties. If you have only a limited space, we advise growing a mixture, as this insures a continual bloom of this grand flower, from early summer till frost. In colors, this mixture includes every magnificent and gorgeous combination conceivable.

PRIMULINUS HYBRIDS

These hybrids, gained by crossing the species Primulinus with the larger varieties of the Ganda-vensis type, have retained all the daintiness and graceful form of their primulius parent, even to the "hood" formed the drooping of the upper petal, and have an added beauty of exquisite coloring.

Alice Tiplady

Probably the most popular of the primulinus types. Large beautiful flowers of brilliant orange-saffron .10 1.00

Arlon

Bright orange-salmon, with red throat .10 .75

Elberton

Light canary yellow .10 1.00

Linton

How to Grow and Store Dahlias

Unlike the Gladiolus, the Dahlia does not require too rich a soil. We find a good potato fertilizer the best. Heavy fertilization causes plants to run to foliage rather than bloom.

Tubers should be planted at least 4 to 6 inches deep, and 2 feet or more apart. Mix well in the soil of the hill a small handful of fertilizer; then place the tuber flat down. Do not stand tuber on end.

If season is dry, a good watering once every week or ten days is very beneficial. Soak the soil to a depth of at least 6 inches. A light sprinkling of water is more harmful than beneficial, for it gives feeders a tendency to work toward the surface, rather than down. After rain, or watering, the soil should be stirred to a depth of from 1 to 1½ inches to retain the moisture. It is a good plan to hill the plants, same as potatoes.

In planting Dahlias, select a sunny location, for they do not thrive in the shade.

In the fall, the tubers should be dug and stored in a cool, dry cellar, having an even temperature of 40 to 45 degrees.

As soon as dug in the field, cut the stalks about 2 or 4 inches from the crown. Pack in boxes or bins, with the crown down, to prevent the moisture in the stalk from working down into the tubers, as this will cause rot.

Care should be taken to keep the tubers from too much air circulation or heat, as this is liable to cause them to dry and shrivel. For small lots we find it the best plan to pack tubers in dry sand.

In the spring, divide the clumps in such a manner that each division includes a part of the crown having at least one eye. These eyes, or sprouts, as they are sometimes called, will begin to show up in the spring, thus making dividing easy.

PHLOX

There is no class of perennials which give more satisfaction in borders or planting in groups. In color they range from pure white to the richest crimson and purple, and from soft rose to salmon to bright coral red, all having a delicate fragrance. Its long season of bloom, from July to September, makes it most desirable as a hedge or border plant, filling in the space after other perennials have ceased to bloom. We list 10-varieties of proven merit. 25c each, 2.50 per dozen, mixed or in separate colors.

20c per dozen; $1.50 per 100

REGALE LILY

This new variety from Western China is admittedly one of the most beautiful Garden Lilies yet introduced. It grows 3 to 5 feet high, and blooms out of doors in July. It is perfectly hardy, and flourishes under varied conditions. The large, trumpet shaped, delicately scented flowers, which are produced freely, are ivory white, shaded pink, tinged with canary yellow at the base of the petals. Strong flowering bulbs. $.50 each. $5.00 per dozen

PANSIES

Our Pansies are far superior to the common large flowered or bedding strains. The flowers are much larger, and of heavier texture. What is more beautiful than a Pansy bed in early spring or late fall, when there are no other flowers in bloom? We specialize in Pansies, and our plants are in a class by themselves. $.60 per dozen; $4.00 per hundred. 25 may be had at 100 rate.

Blackberry Plants

THE FORD

This new variety, created by us in 1921. It is a seedling from the Blower Blackberry, and is much more hardy. The fruiting season is much longer; in fact it is really an everbearing variety. The fruit much larger and better formed than the Blower. Berries are a deep, glossy black, with solid, rich meat, making it excellent for shipping and keeping. For canning it is unsurpassed. This berry took first prize 1924-1925 at the Massachusetts Horticultural Society Exhibition, in competition with other varieties grown throughout New England. Stock limited.

Roots, 25c each; $2.50 per dozen

BLOWER

A mid-summer variety fruit, very large and of superb quality, enormously productive and very hardy; long fruiting season.
